UBS Investor Funds

December 15, 2017

Dear Shareholder,

We present you with the semiannual report for the UBS Investor Series of Funds, namely UBS Select Prime Investor Fund, UBS Select Government Investor Fund, UBS Select Treasury Investor Fund, UBS Prime Investor Fund and UBS Tax-Free Investor Fund, for the six months ended October 31, 2017 (the “reporting period”).

Performance

The US Federal Reserve Board (the “Fed”) raised the federal funds rate one time during the reporting period to a range between 1.00% and 1.25%. The federal funds rate or the “fed funds rate,” is the rate US banks charge one another for funds they borrow on an overnight basis. (For more details on the Fed’s actions, see below.) While the yields on a wide range of short-term investments moved higher over the period, yields still remained low by historical comparison. As a result, the Funds’ yields remained relatively low during the reporting period.

The seven-day current yields for the Funds (after fee waivers/expense reimbursements) were as follows:

- UBS Select Prime Investor Fund: 0.87% as of October 31, 2017, versus 0.66% on April 30, 2017.
- UBS Select Government Investor Fund: 0.63% as of October 31, 2017, versus 0.35% on April 30, 2017.
- UBS Select Treasury Investor Fund: 0.59% as of October 31, 2017, versus 0.35% on April 30, 2017.
- UBS Prime Investor Fund: 0.84% as of October 31, versus 0.62% on April 30, 2017.
- UBS Tax-Free Investor Fund: 0.46% as of October 31, 2017, versus 0.44% on April 30, 2017.

For detailed information on the Funds’ performance, refer to “Yields and characteristics at a glance” on pages 6 and 7.

An interview with the Portfolio Managers

Q. How would you describe the economic environment during the reporting period?

A. The US economy continued to expand, albeit at a mixed pace, during the reporting period. Looking back, the US Commerce Department reported that gross domestic product (“GDP”) grew at a 1.2% seasonally adjusted annualized rate during the first quarter of 2017. GDP growth then accelerated to a 3.1% rate during the second quarter—the strongest pace since the first quarter of 2015. Finally, third quarter 2017 GDP grew at a 3.3% rate based on the US Commerce Department’s second reading.

Q. How did the Fed react to the economic environment?

A. Prior to the beginning of the reporting period, after taking its first step toward normalizing monetary policy in late 2015, the Fed kept the federal funds rate unchanged until December 2016, when it increased rates by 0.25% to a range between 0.50% and 0.75%. The Fed again raised rates 0.25% to a range between 0.75% and 1.00% at its meeting in March 2017, and then to a range between 1.00% and 1.25% at its meeting in June 2017. At its meeting in September 2017, the Fed kept rates on hold, but announced it would begin reducing its balance sheet in October 2017. At its meeting in December 2017, after the end of the reporting period, the Fed raised rates 0.25% to a range between 1.25% and 1.50%.

Q. Given that the Funds are “feeder funds,” how were the portfolios in which they invest managed during the reporting period?

A. Each fund is a “feeder fund,” investing all of its assets in “Master Funds”—the Prime Master Fund, the Government Master Fund, the Treasury Master Fund, the Prime CNAV Master Fund, and the Tax-Free Master Fund, respectively. As always, quality and liquidity remained paramount in our management process for the Master Funds.

- For the Prime Master Fund in which UBS Select Prime Investor Fund invests, we tactically adjusted its weighted average maturity (WAM)—which is the weighted average maturity of the securities in the portfolio—throughout the 12-month review period. When the reporting period began, the Master Fund had a WAM of 25 days. By the end of the period on October 31, 2017, the Master Fund’s WAM was 19 days.

At the issuer level, we maintained a high level of diversification, with the goal of reducing risk and keeping the Master Fund highly liquid. To that end, we typically purchased up to 3% in single nongovernment issuers throughout the reporting period. (The Master Fund is generally able to hold up to 5% in any one issuer, subject to certain exceptions.)

At the security level, we increased the Master Fund’s exposures to commercial paper and certificates of deposit. Conversely, we decreased its exposure to time deposits and repurchase agreements. (Repurchase agreements are transactions that require the seller of a security to buy it back at a predetermined time and price, or upon demand.)

- The WAM for the Government Master Fund in which UBS Select Government Investor Fund invests was 56 days when the reporting period began. Over the review period, the WAM was adjusted, and at period-end on October 31, 2017, it was 34 days. At the security level, we increased the Master Fund’s exposure to US government and agency obligations and reduced its exposure to repurchase agreements.
- The WAM for the Treasury Master Fund in which UBS Select Treasury Investor Fund invests was 49 days when the reporting period began. Over the review period, the WAM was adjusted, and at period-end it was 11 days. At the security level, we increased the Master Fund’s exposure to repurchase agreements and reduced its exposure to US government obligations.
- The WAM for the Prime CNAV Master Fund in which UBS Prime Investor Fund invests was 26 days when the reporting period began. We tactically adjusted its WAM, and at the end of the reporting period the Master Fund’s WAM was 21 days. Over the review period, we increased the Master Fund’s allocations to repurchase agreements and commercial paper. Conversely, we reduced its allocations to US government and agency obligations, certificates of deposit and time deposits.
- The WAM for the Tax-Free Master Fund in which UBS Tax-Free Investor Fund invests was six days when the reporting period began. We tactically adjusted the Master Fund’s WAM based on market conditions and seasonality factors within the tax-exempt market. At the end of the reporting period its WAM was 14 days. Over the review period, we modestly increased the Master Fund’s allocation to tax-exempt commercial paper and slightly reduced its exposure to municipal bonds and notes.

UBS Investor Funds

Q. What factors do you believe will affect the Funds over the coming months?

A. In our view, the US economy will continue to expand at a relatively modest pace. We also expect inflation to be generally tame. As such, we believe the Fed will take a measured approach in terms of raising interest rates and reducing its balance sheet. We anticipate continuing to manage the Funds focusing on risk and liquidity.

We thank you for your continued support and welcome any comments or questions you may have. For additional information on the UBS family of funds,* please contact your financial advisor, or visit us at www.ubs.com/am-us.

UBS Investor Funds

Understanding your Fund's expenses¹ (unaudited)

As a shareholder of a Fund, you incur ongoing costs, including management fees, distribution (12b-1) fees, shareholder servicing fees and other Fund expenses. These examples are intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in a Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds. Since each Fund is a "feeder fund" that invests in a corresponding "master fund," the expense information below reflects the combined effect of the two levels of expenses and not just those imposed directly at the feeder fund level.

The examples below are based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period, May 1, 2017 to October 31, 2017.

Actual expenses

The first line in the table below for each Fund provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over a period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses paid during period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical example for comparison purposes

The second line in the table below for each Fund provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate your actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare these 5% hypothetical examples with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs. Therefore, the second line in the table for each Fund is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds, if those other funds impose transactional costs—for example, exchange fees. In addition, if those transactional costs were included, your costs for those other funds would have been higher.

² "Actual—Ending account value" may or may not be reflective of a shareholder's actual investment experience during periods of very low interest rates. While the Fund declares dividends daily and pays them monthly, the amounts are rounded to the nearest $0.01 on a daily basis with respect to each investor's account. As a result, investors whose Fund account balances earn daily dividends that total less than one half a cent on any given day will not accrue any dividends on that day.

³ Expenses are equal to the Fund's annualized net expense ratio, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184 divided by 365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

Organization and significant accounting policies

UBS Select Prime Investor Fund (“Prime Investor Fund”), UBS Select Government Investor Fund (“Government Investor Fund”), UBS Select Treasury Investor Fund (“Treasury Investor Fund”), UBS Prime Investor Fund (“Prime CNAV Investor Fund”), and UBS Tax-Free Investor Fund (“Tax-Free Investor Fund”) (formerly UBS Select Tax-Free Investor Fund) (each a “Fund”, collectively, the “Funds”) are each registered with the US Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (“1940 Act”), as a diversified series of UBS Money Series (the “Trust”), an open-end management investment company organized as a Delaware statutory trust on April 29, 1998. The Trust is a series mutual fund with twenty series. The financial statements for the other series of the Trust are not included herein.

Prime Investor Fund, Government Investor Fund, Treasury Investor Fund, Prime CNAV Investor Fund, and Tax-Free Investor Fund are “feeder funds” that invest substantially all of their assets in “master funds”—Prime Master Fund, Government Master Fund, Treasury Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund, and Tax-Free Master Fund, respectively (each a “Master Fund”, collectively, the “Master Funds” and each a diversified series of Master Trust, an open-end investment company registered with the SEC under the 1940 Act). The feeder funds and their respective Master Funds have the same investment objectives.

Prime Investor Fund, Treasury Investor Fund and Tax-Free Investor Fund commenced operations on August 1, 2008, September 18, 2008, and September 22, 2008, respectively. Prime CNAV Investor Fund commenced operations on January 19, 2016 and Government Investor Fund commenced operations on August 17, 2016.

UBS Asset Management (Americas) Inc. (“UBS AM”) is the investment advisor and administrator for the Master Funds and the administrator for the feeder funds. UBS Asset Management (US) Inc. (“UBS AM—US”) serves as principal underwriter for the Funds. UBS AM and UBS AM—US are indirect wholly owned subsidiaries of UBS Group AG. UBS Group AG is an internationally diversified organization with headquarters in Zurich, Switzerland. UBS Group AG operates in many areas of the financial services industry.

The performance of each Fund is directly affected by the performance of the corresponding Master Fund. The value of such investment reflects each Fund’s proportionate interest in the net assets of its corresponding Master Fund (7.06% for Prime Investor Fund, 0.65% for Government Investor Fund, 1.94% for Treasury Investor Fund, 11.13% for Prime CNAV Investor Fund, and 2.29% for Tax-Free Investor Fund at October 31, 2017).

All of the net investment income and realized and unrealized gains and losses from investment activities of each Master Fund are allocated pro rata, based on respective ownership interests, among the corresponding Fund and other investors in the Master Fund (e.g., other feeder funds) at the time of such determination. The financial statements of the Master Funds, including the Portfolio of investments, are included elsewhere in this report and should be read in connection with the Funds’ financial statements. The Trust accounts separately for the assets, liabilities and operations of each series. Expenses directly attributable to each series are charged to that series’ operations; expenses which are applicable to all series are allocated among them on a pro rata basis.

In the normal course of business, the Funds may enter into contracts that contain a variety of representations that provide indemnification for certain liabilities. The Funds’ maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Funds that have not yet occurred. However, the Funds have not had any prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts and expect the risk of loss to be remote.

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) is the exclusive reference of authoritative US generally accepted accounting principles (“US GAAP”) recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities. Rules and interpretive releases of the SEC under authority of federal laws are also sources of authoritative US GAAP for SEC registrants. The Funds’ financial statements are prepared in accordance with US GAAP, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

UBS Investor Funds

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

In August 2014, the FASB issued Accounting Standard Update No. 2014-15, Presentation of Financial Statements—Going Concern (Subtopic 205-40): “Disclosure of Uncertainties about an Entity’s Ability to Continue as a Going Concern” (“ASU 2014-15”). The update provides guidance about management’s responsibility to evaluate whether there is substantial doubt about the entity’s ability to continue as a going concern and to provide related footnote disclosure. Management has evaluated relevant conditions and events, which are known and reasonably knowable, and has determined that there are no conditions and events that raise substantial doubt about each Fund’s ability to continue as a going concern.

In October 2016, the SEC adopted new rules and forms, and amendments to certain current rules and forms, to modernize reporting and disclosure of information by registered investment companies. The amendments to Regulation S-X require standardized, enhanced disclosure about derivatives in investment company financial statements, and change the rules governing the form and content of such financial statements. The amendments to Regulation S-X took effect on August 1, 2017. Management has assessed the impact of these regulatory developments and the changes are incorporated within the financial statements.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies:

Valuation of investments—Each Fund records its investment in its corresponding Master Fund at fair value. Securities held by the Master Funds are valued as indicated in the Master Funds’ Notes to financial statements, which are included elsewhere in this report.

Floating net asset value per share fund—Until October 11, 2016, Prime Investor Fund sought to maintain a stable price of $1.00 per share. Effective October 11, 2016, consistent with Rule 2a-7 under the 1940 Act, as amended (“Rule 2a-7”), Prime Investor Fund calculates its net asset value to four decimals (e.g., $1.0000) using market-based pricing and expects that its share price will fluctuate.

On occasion, it is possible that the end of day accounting net asset value (“NAV”) per share of a floating NAV fund, such as Prime Investor Fund, as reported in a shareholder report, for example, may differ from the last transactional NAV per share (used for purposes of processing purchases and redemptions); while this is not expected to occur with great frequency, it may happen should certain factors align on a given business day. The final end-of-day NAV per share for accounting and financial statement reporting purposes is designed to reflect all end-of-day accounting activities, which may include, but are not limited to, income and expense accruals, dividend and distribution reinvestments as well as final share activity; such items are factored into the Fund after the last transactional NAV per share is calculated on a given day (normally, the last transactional NAV per share is calculated as of 3 pm, Eastern time, as explained in the Fund’s prospectus).

Constant net asset value per share funds—Government Investor Fund, Treasury Investor Fund, Prime CNAV Investor Fund, and Tax-Free Investor Fund (collectively the “Constant NAV Funds”) attempt to maintain a stable net asset value of $1.00 per share. There is no assurance, however, that the Constant NAV Funds will be able to maintain a stable net asset value of $1.00 per share. The Constant NAV Funds have adopted certain investment, portfolio valuation and dividend/distribution policies in an attempt to enable each to do so. Government Investor Fund and Treasury Investor Fund have adopted a policy to operate as “government money market funds”. Under Rule 2a-7, a “government money market fund” invests 99.5% or more of its total assets in cash, government securities, and/or repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully (i.e., collateralized by cash and/or government securities). As “government money market funds”, Government Investor Fund and Treasury Investor Fund are permitted to seek to maintain a stable price per share. Effective October 14, 2016, Prime CNAV Investor Fund and Tax-Free Investor Fund became “retail money market funds”. Under Rule 2a-7, a “retail money market fund” is a money market fund that has policies and procedures reasonably designed to limit all beneficial owners of the fund to natural persons. As “retail money market funds”, Prime CNAV Investor Fund and Tax-Free Investor Fund are permitted to seek to maintain a stable price per share.

UBS Investor Funds

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

Liquidity fee and/or redemption gates—Effective October 14, 2016, consistent with Rule 2a-7, Prime Investor Fund, Prime CNAV Investor Fund and Tax-Free Investor Fund may be subject to the possible imposition of a liquidity fee and/or temporary redemption gate. Prime Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund and Tax-Free Master Fund may impose a fee upon the sale of your shares of each related feeder fund or may temporarily suspend your ability to sell shares of each related feeder fund if Prime Master Fund’s liquidity, Prime CNAV Master Fund’s liquidity and/or Tax-Free Master Fund’s liquidity, respectively, falls below required minimums because of market conditions or other factors. For the period ended October 31, 2017, Prime Investor Fund, Prime CNAV Investor Fund and Tax-Free Investor Fund were not subject to any liquidity fees and/or redemption gates.

By operating as “government money market funds”, Government Investor Fund and Treasury Investor Fund are exempt from requirements that permit the imposition of a liquidity fee and/or temporary redemption gates. While the Funds’ Board of Trustees (the “Board”) may elect to subject Government Investor Fund and Treasury Investor Fund to liquidity fee and gate requirements in the future, the Board has not elected to do so at this time.

Dividends and distributions—Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends and distributions is determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations, which may differ from US GAAP. These “book/tax” differences are either considered temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts are reclassified within the capital accounts based on their federal tax-basis treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassification.

Concentration of risk—The ability of the issuers of the debt securities held by the Master Funds to meet their obligations may be affected by economic and political developments particular to a specific industry, country, state or region.

Administrator

UBS AM serves as administrator to each Fund pursuant to an Administration Agreement approved by the Trust’s board. In accordance with the Administration Agreement, each Fund pays UBS AM an administration fee, which is accrued daily and paid monthly, at the below annual rate, as a percentage of each Fund’s average daily net assets:

Fund	Administration fee
Prime Investor Fund	0.10%
Government Investor Fund	0.10
Treasury Investor Fund	0.10
Prime CNAV Investor Fund	0.10
Tax-Free Investor Fund	0.10

At October 31, 2017, each Fund owed UBS AM for administrative services/expense reimbursements as follows:

Fund	Amounts owed to UBS AM
Prime Investor Fund	$34,784
Government Investor Fund	8,198
Treasury Investor Fund	29,366
Prime CNAV Investor Fund	16,788
Tax-Free Investor Fund	4,843

The Funds and UBS AM have entered into written fee waiver/expense reimbursement agreements pursuant to which UBS AM is contractually obligated to waive its administration fees and/or reimburse the Funds so that the Funds’ operating expenses through August 31, 2018 (excluding interest expense, if any, and extraordinary items) would not exceed 0.50%. At October 31, 2017 UBS AM owed the Funds and for the period ended October 31, 2017, UBS AM was contractually obligated to waive fees and/or to reimburse certain operating expenses as follows:

UBS Investor Funds

Funds	Amounts owed by UBS AM	Amounts waived and/or reimbursed by UBS AM
Prime Investor Fund	$31,463	$155,460
Government Investor Fund	43,064	138,225
Treasury Investor Fund	44,889	190,521
Prime CNAV Investor Fund	29,875	121,205
Tax-Free Investor Fund	29,942	100,971

Each Fund has agreed to repay UBS AM for any such waived fees/ reimbursed expenses to the extent that it can do so over the three years following such waived fees/reimbursed expenses without causing each Fund's expenses in any of those three years to exceed such expense cap. Understanding a Master Fund's expenses (unaudited)

(Note: The expense information provided in this section is relevant for direct investors in the Master Funds. Investors in the related "feeder funds" should instead focus on separate expense examples relevant to the particular feeder funds; the expense examples for the feeder funds will reflect their proportionate share of the corresponding Master Funds' expenses.)

As an owner of a Master Fund, an investor such as a feeder fund incurs ongoing costs, including management fees and other Master Fund expenses. These examples are intended to help you understand a Master Fund investor's ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in a Master Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The examples below are based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period, May 1, 2017 to October 31, 2017.

Actual expenses

The first line in the table below for each Master Fund provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over a period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses paid during period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical example for comparison purposes

The second line in the table below for each Master Fund provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Master Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Master Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate your actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Master Fund and other funds. To do so, compare these 5% hypothetical examples with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs. Therefore, the second line in the table for each Master Fund is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds, if those other funds impose transactional costs—for example, exchange fees. In addition, if those transactional costs were included, your costs for those other funds would have been higher.

Organization and significant accounting policies

Prime Master Fund, Government Master Fund, Treasury Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund, and Tax-Free Master Fund (each a “Master Fund”, collectively, the “Master Funds”) are each registered with the US Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (“1940 Act”), as a diversified series of Master Trust, an open-end management investment company organized as a Delaware statutory trust on June 12, 2007.

Prime Master Fund, Treasury Master Fund, and Tax-Free Master Fund commenced operations on August 28, 2007. Prime CNAV Master Fund commenced operations on January 19, 2016 and Government Master Fund commenced operations on June 24, 2016.

UBS Asset Management (Americas) Inc. (“UBS AM”) is the investment advisor and administrator for the Master Funds. UBS AM is an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of UBS Group AG. UBS Group AG is an internationally diversified organization with headquarters in Zurich, Switzerland. UBS Group AG operates in many areas of the financial services industry.

Master Trust accounts separately for the assets, liabilities and operations of each series. Expenses directly attributable to each series are charged to that series’ operations; expenses which are applicable to all series are allocated among them on a pro rata basis.

In the normal course of business, the Master Funds may enter into contracts that contain a variety of representations that provide indemnification for certain liabilities. The Master Funds’ maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Master Funds that have not yet occurred. However, the Master Funds have not had any prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts and expect the risk of loss to be remote.

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) is the exclusive reference of authoritative US generally accepted accounting principles (“US GAAP”) recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities. Rules and interpretive releases of the SEC under authority of federal laws are also sources of authoritative US GAAP for SEC registrants. The Master Funds’ financial statements are prepared in accordance with US GAAP, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

In August 2014, the FASB issued Accounting Standard Update No. 2014-15, Presentation of Financial Statements—Going Concern (Subtopic 205-40): “Disclosure of Uncertainties about an Entity’s Ability to Continue as a Going Concern” (“ASU 2014-15”). The update provides guidance about management’s responsibility to evaluate whether there is substantial doubt about the entity’s ability to continue as a going concern and to provide related footnote disclosure. Management has evaluated relevant conditions and events, which are known and reasonably knowable, and has determined that there are no conditions and events that raise substantial doubt about each Master Fund’s ability to continue as a going concern.

In October 2016, the SEC adopted new rules and forms, and amendments to certain current rules and forms, to modernize reporting and disclosure of information by registered investment companies. The amendments to Regulation S-X require standardized, enhanced disclosure about derivatives in investment company financial statements, and change the rules governing the form and content of such financial statements. The amendments to Regulation S-X took effect on August 1, 2017. Management has assessed the impact of these regulatory developments and the changes are incorporated within the financial statements.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies:

Valuation of investments

Until October 11, 2016, Prime Master Fund valued its investments at amortized cost. Effective October 11, 2016, consistent with Rule 2a-7 under the 1940 Act, as amended ("Rule 2a-7"), the net asset value of Prime Master Fund is calculated using market-based values, and the price of its beneficial interests fluctuate.

Under Rule 2a-7, Government Master Fund, Treasury Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund, and Tax-Free Master Fund have adopted certain policies that enable them to use the amortized cost method of valuation. Government Master Fund and Treasury Master Fund have adopted a policy to operate as "government money market funds". Under Rule 2a-7, a "government money market fund" invests 99.5% or more of its total assets in cash, government securities, and/or repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully (i.e., collateralized by cash and/or government securities). Effective October 14, 2016, Prime CNAV Master Fund and Tax-Free Master Fund became "retail money market funds". Under Rule 2a-7, a "retail money market fund" is a money market fund that has policies and procedures reasonably designed to limit all beneficial owners of the fund to natural persons. As "government money market funds" and as "retail money market funds", Government Master Fund, Treasury Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund, and Tax-Free Master Fund value their investments at amortized cost unless Master Trust's Board of Trustees (the "Board") determines that this does not represent fair value. Periodic review and monitoring of the valuation of securities held by Government Master Fund, Treasury Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund, and Tax-Free Master Fund is performed in an effort to ensure that amortized cost approximates market value.

The Board has delegated to the Equities, Fixed Income, and Multi-Asset Valuation Committee ("VC") the responsibility for making fair value determinations with respect to the Master Funds' portfolio investments. The types of investments for which such fair value pricing may be necessary include, but are not limited to: investments of an issuer that has entered into a restructuring; fixed-income investments that have gone into default and for which there is no current market value quotation; Section 4(a)(2) commercial paper; investments that are restricted as to transfer or resale; illiquid investments; and investments for which the prices or values available do not, in the judgment of the VC, represent current market value. The need to fair value a Master Fund's portfolio investments may also result from low trading volume in foreign markets or thinly traded investments. Various factors may be reviewed in order to make a good faith determination of an investment's fair value. These factors include, but are not limited to, fundamental analytical data relating to the investment; the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition of the investment; and the evaluation of forces which influence the market in which the investments are purchased and sold.

Each Master Fund's portfolio holdings may also consist of shares of other investment companies in which the Master Fund invests. The value of each such open-end investment company will generally be its net asset value at the time a Master Fund's beneficial interests are priced. Pursuant to each Master Fund's use of the practical expedient within ASC Topic 820, investments in non-registered investment companies and/or investments in investment companies without publicly published prices are also valued at the daily net asset value. Each investment company generally values investments in a manner as described in that investment company's prospectus or similar documents.

US GAAP requires disclosure regarding the various inputs that are used in determining the value of each of the Master Fund's investments. These inputs are summarized into the three broad levels listed below:

Level 1—Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical investments.

Level 2—Other significant observable inputs, including but not limited to, quoted prices for similar investments, interest rates, prepayment speeds and credit risks.

Level 3—Unobservable inputs inclusive of each Master Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments.

Master Trust

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

A fair value hierarchy has been included near the end of Master Fund's Portfolio of investments.

Liquidity fee and/or redemption gates—Effective October 14, 2016, consistent with Rule 2a-7, the Board is permitted to impose a liquidity fee on redemptions from each of Prime Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund and Tax-Free Master Fund or a redemption gate to temporarily restrict redemptions from those Master Funds in the event that any of Prime Master Fund's liquidity, Prime CNAV Master Fund's liquidity and/or Tax-Free Master Fund's liquidity, respectively, falls below required minimums because of market conditions or other factors. On or after October 14, 2016, if Prime Master Fund's, Prime CNAV Master Fund's or Tax-Free Master Fund's weekly liquid assets fall below 30% of the Fund's total assets, the board is permitted, but not required, to: (i) impose a liquidity fee of no more than 2% of the amount redeemed; and/or (ii) impose a redemption gate to temporarily suspend the right of redemption. On or after October 14, 2016, if any of Prime Master Fund's, Prime CNAV Master Fund's or Tax-Free Master Fund's weekly liquid assets falls below 10% of the Fund's total assets, the relevant Fund must impose, generally as of the beginning of the next business day, a liquidity fee of 1% of the amount redeemed unless the Board determines that such a fee would not be in the best interest of the Fund or determines that a lower or higher fee (subject to the 2% limit) would be in the best interest of the Fund. Liquidity fees would reduce the amount an interestholder receives upon redemption of its beneficial interests. Each of Prime Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund, and Tax-Free Master Fund retains the liquidity fees for the benefit of remaining interest holders. For the period ended October 31, 2017, the Board of Prime Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund and Tax-Free Master Fund did not impose any liquidity fees and/or redemption gates.

By operating as "government money market funds", Government Master Fund and Treasury Master Fund are exempt from requirements that permit the imposition of a liquidity fee and/or temporary redemption gates. While the Board may elect to subject Government Master Fund and Treasury Master Fund to liquidity fee and gate requirements in the future, the Board has not elected to do so at this time.

Repurchase agreements—The Master Funds may purchase securities or other obligations from a bank or securities dealer (or its affiliate), subject to the seller's agreement to repurchase them at an agreed upon date (or upon demand) and price. The Master Funds maintain custody of the underlying obligations prior to their repurchase, either through their regular custodian or through a special "tri-party" custodian or sub-custodian that maintains a separate account for both the Master Funds and their counterparty. The underlying collateral is valued daily in an effort to ensure that the value, including accrued interest, is at least equal to the repurchase price.

Repurchase agreements carry certain risks not associated with direct investments in securities, including a possible decline in the market value of the underlying obligations. If their value becomes less than the repurchase price, plus any agreed-upon additional amount, the counterparty must provide additional collateral so that the collateral is at least equal to the repurchase price plus any agreed-upon additional amount. The difference between the total amount to be received upon repurchase of the obligations and the price that was paid by a fund upon acquisition is accrued as interest and included in its net investment income. In the event of default of the obligation to repurchase, the Master Funds generally have the right to liquidate the collateral and apply the proceeds in satisfaction of the obligation. Repurchase agreements involving obligations other than US government securities (such as commercial paper, corporate bonds, equities and mortgage loans) may be subject to special risks and may not have the benefit of certain protections in the event of counterparty insolvency. Moreover, repurchase agreements secured by obligations that are not eligible for direct investment under Rule 2a-7 or a fund's investment strategies and limitations may require the Master Fund to promptly dispose of such collateral if the seller or guarantor becomes insolvent. If the seller (or seller's guarantor, if any) becomes insolvent, the Master Funds may suffer delays, costs and possible losses in connection with the disposition or retention of the collateral. Under certain circumstances, in the event of default or bankruptcy by the other party to the agreement, realization and/or retention of the collateral may be subject to legal proceedings. Each Master Fund intends to enter into repurchase agreements only in transactions with counterparties believed by UBS AM to present minimal credit risk.

Master Trust

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

The Master Funds may participate in joint repurchase agreement transactions with other funds managed or advised by UBS AM. Prime Master Fund, Government Master Fund, Treasury Master Fund, and Prime CNAV Master Fund may engage in repurchase agreements as part of normal investing strategies; Tax-Free Master Fund generally would only engage in repurchase agreement transactions as temporary or defensive investments.

Under certain circumstances, a Master Fund may engage in a repurchase agreement transaction with a yield of zero in order to invest cash amounts remaining in its portfolio at the end of the day in order to avoid having the Master Fund potentially exposed to a fee for uninvested cash held in a business account at a bank.

Investment transactions and investment income—Investment transactions are recorded on the trade date. Realized gains and losses from investment transactions are calculated using the identified cost method. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Discounts are accreted and premiums are amortized as adjustments to interest income and the identified cost of investments.

Concentration of risk—The ability of the issuers of the debt securities held by the Master Funds to meet their obligations may be affected by economic and political developments particular to a specific industry, country, state or region.

Investment advisor and administrator

UBS AM serves as the investment advisor and administrator to each Master Fund pursuant to an investment advisory and administration contract (“Management Contract”) approved by the Board. In accordance with the Management Contract, each Master Fund pays UBS AM an investment advisory and administration fee (“management fee”), which is accrued daily and paid monthly, at the below annual rates, as a percentage of each Master Fund’s average daily net assets:

Average daily net assets	Annual rate
Up to $30 billion	0.1000%
In excess of $30 billion up to $40 billion	0.0975
In excess of $40 billion up to $50 billion	0.0950
In excess of $50 billion up to $60 billion	0.0925
Over $60 billion	0.0900

At October 31, 2017, each Master Fund owed UBS AM for investment advisory and administration services as follows:

Fund	Amounts owed to UBS AM
Prime Master Fund	$ 520,334
Government Master Fund	1,335,063
Treasury Master Fund	1,556,561
Prime CNAV Master Fund	153,289
Tax-Free Master Fund	218,645

In exchange for these fees, UBS AM has agreed to bear all of the Master Funds’ expenses other than taxes, extraordinary costs and the cost of securities purchased and sold by the Master Funds, including any transaction costs. Although UBS AM is not obligated to pay the fees and expenses of the Master Funds’ independent trustees, it is contractually obligated to reduce its management fee in an amount equal to those fees and expenses. UBS AM estimates that these fees and expenses will be 0.01% or less of each Master Fund's average daily net assets. At October 31, 2017, UBS AM was obligated to reduce its management fees, otherwise receivable by UBS AM, for independent trustees' fees and expenses as follows:

Master Trust

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

Fund
Prime Master Fund	$16,160
Government Master Fund	34,388
Treasury Master Fund	45,921
Prime CNAV Master Fund	8,824
Tax-Free Master Fund	9,965

Effective February 1, 2017 through October 31, 2017, with respect to Prime Master Fund only, UBS AM has agreed to voluntarily waive 0.04% of its management fee. At October 31, 2017, UBS AM owed Prime Master Fund, and for the period ended October 31, 2017, UBS AM voluntarily waived, the below amounts; amounts waived are not subject to future recoupment:

Fund	Amount owed by UBS AM	Amount waived by UBS AM
Prime Master Fund	$208,141	$988,854

In addition, UBS AM may voluntarily undertake to waive fees in the event that Master Fund yields drop below a certain level. This additional undertaking is voluntary and not contractual and may be terminated at any time. At October 31, 2017, and during the period ended October 31, 2017, UBS AM did not owe and/or waive fees under such an additional fee waiver undertaking. Such waived fees are not subject to future recoupment.

Additional information regarding compensation to affiliate of a board member

Professor Meyer Feldberg serves as a senior advisor to Morgan Stanley, a financial services firm with which the Master Funds may conduct transactions, resulting in him being an interested trustee of the Master Funds. The Master Funds have been informed that Professor Feldberg's role at Morgan Stanley does not involve matters directly affecting any UBS funds. Portfolio transactions are executed through Morgan Stanley based on that firm's ability to provide best execution of the transactions.

During the six months ended October 31, 2017, the Master Funds purchased and sold certain securities (e.g., fixed income securities) in principal trades with Morgan Stanley, having aggregate values as follows:

Prime Master Fund	$	—
Government Master Fund		—
Treasury Master Fund		—
Prime CNAV Master Fund		—
Tax-Free Master Fund		280,826,000

Morgan Stanley received compensation in connection with these trades, which may have been in the form of a "mark-up" or "mark-down" of the price of the securities, a fee from the issuer for maintaining a commercial paper program, or some other form of compensation. Although the precise amount of this compensation is not generally known by the Master Funds' investment manager, it is believed that under normal circumstances it represents a small portion of the total value of the transactions.

Federal tax status

Each Master Fund is considered a non-publicly traded partnership for federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code; therefore, no federal tax provision is necessary. As such, each investor in a Master Fund is treated as owning its proportionate share of the net assets, income, expenses, and realized and unrealized gains and losses of the Master Fund. UBS AM intends that each Master Fund's assets, income and distributions will be managed in such a way that an investor in a Master Fund will be able to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company by investing its net assets through the Master Fund.

Aggregate cost for federal income tax purposes was substantially the same for book purposes; and net unrealized appreciation consisted of:

Prime Master Fund

Gross unrealized appreciation	$ 274,817
Gross unrealized depreciation	(147,830)
Net unrealized appreciation	$ 126,987

ASC 740-10 "Income Taxes—Overall" sets forth a minimum threshold for financial statement recognition of the benefit of a tax position taken or expected to be taken. The Funds have conducted an analysis and concluded, as of October 31, 2017, that there are no significant uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition in the financial statements. The Master Funds recognize interest and penalties, if any, related to uncertain tax positions as income tax expense in the Statement of operations. During the period ended October 31, 2017, the Funds did not incur any interest or penalties.

Each of the tax years in the four year period ended April 30, 2017, and since inception for the Government Master Fund and the Prime CNAV Master Fund, remains subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service and state taxing authorities.

Board approval of investment advisory agreements

(Prime Master Fund, Government Master Fund, Treasury Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund and Tax-Free Master Fund) (unaudited)

Background—At a meeting of the board of Master Trust (the “Trust”) on July 18-19, 2017, the members of the board, including the trustees who are not “interested persons” of the Trust (“Independent Trustees”), as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “1940 Act”), considered and approved the continuance of the management contract (the “Management Contract”) between UBS Asset Management (Americas) Inc. (“UBS AM”) and the Trust, with respect to Government Master Fund (“Government Master”), Prime CNAV Master Fund (“Prime CNAV Master”), Prime Master Fund (“Prime Master”), Treasury Master Fund (“Treasury Master”) and Tax-Free Master Fund (“Tax-Free Master” and, collectively with Government Master, Prime CNAV Master, Prime Master and Treasury Master, each a “Master Fund” and collectively the “Master Funds”). In preparing for the meeting, the Independent Trustees had requested and received extensive information from UBS AM to assist them, including information about UBS AM, as well as the advisory, administrative and distribution arrangements for the Master Funds. The board reviewed and discussed with management the materials initially provided by UBS AM prior to the scheduled board meeting. The Independent Trustees also met in executive session after management’s presentation was completed to review the disclosure that had been made to them at the meeting. At these sessions the Independent Trustees were joined by their independent legal counsel. The Independent Trustees also received a memorandum from their independent legal counsel discussing the duties of board members in considering the approval of advisory and administration agreements.

In its consideration of the approval of the Management Contract, the board reviewed the following factors:

Nature, extent and quality of the services under the Management Contract—The board received and considered information regarding the nature, extent and quality of management services provided to the Master Funds by UBS AM under the Management Contract. The board also considered the nature, extent and quality of administrative, distribution, and shareholder services performed by UBS AM and its affiliates for the Master Funds and the corresponding SEC-registered “feeder funds” that invest in the Master Funds (the “Feeder Funds”). The board noted that it received information at regular meetings throughout the year regarding the services rendered by UBS AM concerning the management of each Master Fund’s and Feeder Fund’s affairs and UBS AM’s role in coordinating and overseeing providers of other services to the Master Funds and the Feeder Funds. The board’s evaluation of the services provided by UBS AM took into account the board’s knowledge and familiarity gained as board members of funds in the UBS New York fund complex, including the scope and quality of UBS AM’s investment advisory and other capabilities and the quality of its administrative and other services. The board observed that the scope of services provided by UBS AM had expanded over time as a result of regulatory and other developments, including maintaining and monitoring its own and the Master Funds’ and the Feeder Funds’ expanded compliance programs.

The board had available to it the qualifications, backgrounds and responsibilities of the Master Funds’ and the Feeder Funds’ senior personnel and the Master Funds’ portfolio managers primarily responsible for the day-to-day management. The board recognized that many of these persons report to the board regularly and that at each regular meeting the board receives a detailed report from UBS AM on each Master Fund’s and corresponding Feeder Fund’s performance. The board also considered, based on its knowledge of UBS AM and its affiliates, the financial resources available to UBS AM and its parent organization, UBS Group AG. In that regard, the board received extensive financial information regarding UBS AM and noted that it was a wholly owned, indirect subsidiary of one of the largest financial services firms in the world. It also was noted that UBS AM had approximately $146 billion in assets under management as of March 31, 2017 and was part of the UBS Asset Management Division, which had approximately $695 billion in assets under management worldwide as of March 31, 2017. The board also was cognizant of, and considered, the regulatory and litigation actions and investigations occurring in the past few years involving UBS Group AG, UBS AM and certain of their affiliates.

The board concluded that, overall, it was satisfied with the nature, extent and quality of services provided (and expected to be provided) under the Management Contract.

Management fees and expense ratios—In conducting its review, the board noted that under the master-feeder structure, each Master Fund pays an investment advisory and administration fee (the “Contractual Management

Master Trust

Board approval of investment advisory agreements

(Prime Master Fund, Government Master Fund, Treasury Master Fund, Prime CNAV Master Fund and Tax-Free Master Fund) (unaudited)

Fee”) to UBS AM, and, in turn, each Feeder Fund bears its corresponding Master Fund’s expenses in proportion to its investment in its corresponding Master Fund. Therefore, in making its determination regarding each Master Fund’s fees, the board assessed (i) each Master Fund’s Contractual Management Fee, Actual Management Fee (defined below) and overall expenses, (ii) each Feeder Fund’s portion of its Master Fund’s Contractual Management Fee and Actual Management Fee (defined below), and (iii) each Feeder Fund’s overall expenses.

In addition to reviewing each Feeder Fund’s portion of its corresponding Master Fund’s Contractual Management Fee, the board also reviewed and considered any fee waiver and/or expense reimbursement arrangement and considered the actual fee rate (after taking any waivers and/or reimbursements into account) (the “Actual Management Fee”). The board noted that management proposed to extend the contractual fee waiver and/or expense reimbursement arrangements in place for the Select Prime Preferred Feeder Fund, Prime Preferred Feeder Fund, Tax-Free Preferred Feeder Fund, Select Treasury Preferred Feeder Fund, Select Government Preferred Feeder Fund, Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund, Prime Investor Feeder Fund, Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund, Select Treasury Investor Feeder Fund, Select Government Investor Feeder Fund, Select Treasury Capital Feeder Fund and Select Government Capital Feeder Fund through August 31, 2018. The board also noted that management would pass through to the benefit of the Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund, Prime Investor Feeder Fund, Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund, Select Treasury Investor Feeder Fund and Select Government Investor Feeder Fund certain waivers from financial intermediaries. With respect to a number of the Feeder Funds, the board also took note of UBS AM’s additional voluntary undertakings to waive fees/reimburse expenses as part of “yield flooring”. The board noted that such additional voluntary waiver/reimbursement arrangements are not contractually imposed and could change or terminate at any time and varied for particular Feeder Funds over the periods examined.

The board also received and considered information comparing each Master Fund’s Contractual Management Fee, Actual Management Fee and overall expenses and each Feeder Fund’s portion of its corresponding Master Fund’s Contractual Management Fee and Actual Management Fee and each Feeder Fund’s overall expenses with those of funds in a group of funds selected and provided by Broadridge (“Broadridge”), an independent provider of investment company data (the “Expense Group”). With respect to Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund, Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund, Select Treasury Investor Feeder Fund, Select Government Investor Feeder Fund and Prime Investor Feeder Fund, the board also received from Broadridge comparative data on a supplemental expense group of funds selected based on feeder fund asset size instead of master fund asset size (the “Supplemental Expense Group”).

In connection with its consideration of the management fees, the board also received information from UBS AM with respect to fees paid by institutional or separate accounts; however, in management’s view, such fee information was not very relevant to the Master Funds because, among other reasons, separately managed and institutional accounts with a “cash” mandate (a) were not subject to all of the constraints of Rule 2a-7 under the 1940 Act to which the Master Funds are subject and (b) do not involve the management responsibilities attendant to the operation of a 1940 Act regulated fund, and, therefore, were not totally comparable. The board also received information on fees charged to other mutual funds managed by UBS AM.

Government Master

Select Government Institutional Feeder Fund, Select Government Preferred Feeder Fund, Select Government Investor Feeder Fund, Select Government Capital Feeder Fund and RMA Government Money Market Feeder Fund

The comparative Broadridge information showed that, with the exception of the Select Government Capital Feeder Fund’s Actual Management Fees and the Select Government Investor Feeder Fund’s and RMA Government Money Market Feeder Fund’s total expenses, the Government Master Fund’s Contractual Management Fee, Actual Management Fee and overall expenses were all at or below its corresponding Expense Group median with the related Feeder Funds’ fees taken into account. (Below median fees or expenses represent fees or expenses that are lower relative to the median, and above median fees or expenses represent fees or expenses that are higher relative to the median of the funds in the applicable Expense Group.)

Master Trust

Management noted that while the Select Government Capital Feeder Fund's Actual Management Fees were above the Expense Group median by 5 basis points (i.e., 0.05%), the Select Government Capital Feeder Fund's total expenses were below the applicable Expense Group median. Management explained that this differential is largely the result of the Select Government Capital Feeder Fund having more competitive gross yields (which resulted in the Select Government Capital Feeder Fund not having to waive its fees to the same extent as peers, which might have needed to reduce fees to a greater extent in order to maintain a positive yield). Management further noted that because the Select Government Capital Feeder Fund's total expenses are below the Expense Group median, it believes the overall expenses for the fund are in line with its peers.

Management explained that the Select Government Investor Feeder Fund's and RMA Government Money Market Feeder Fund's higher total expenses relative to the applicable Expense Group (with the RMA Government Money Market Feeder Fund's total expenses the highest in the applicable Expense Group) were due to yield floor waivers applied to varying degrees over different time horizons for all of the funds in the applicable Expense Group, which made it difficult to assess true comparisons. Management stated that the net prospectus expense ratio, which represents a fund's total expenses net of contractual waivers (as they appear in the fund's prospectus) but does not include any voluntary expense waivers (e.g., yield floor waivers), provides a better method of comparison for this year. Management noted that the Select Government Investor Feeder Fund's net prospectus expense ratio was below the median and RMA Government Money Market Feeder Fund's net prospectus expense ratio was at the median in the applicable Expense Group.

Prime CNAV Master

Prime Reserves Feeder Fund, Prime Preferred Feeder Fund and Prime Investor Feeder Fund

The comparative Broadridge information showed that, with the exception of the Prime Investor Feeder Fund's total expenses, the Prime CNAV Master Fund's Contractual Management Fee, Actual Management Fee and overall expenses were all at or below its corresponding Expense Group median with the related Feeder Funds' fees taken into account.

Management noted that the Prime Investor Feeder Fund's total expenses were above its Expense Group median. Management explained that the Prime Investor Feeder Fund's higher total expenses relative to the Expense Group were due to yield floor waivers applied to varying degrees over different time horizons for all of the funds in the applicable Expense Group, which made it difficult to assess true comparisons. Management noted that while the Select Prime Institutional Feeder Fund's Actual Management Fee was above its Expense Group median by less than one basis point (i.e., 0.004%), the Select Prime Institutional Feeder Fund's total expenses were at the Expense Group median. Management explained that this differential is largely the result of the Select Prime Institutional Feeder Fund having more competitive gross yields (which resulted in the Select Prime Institutional Feeder Fund not having to waive its fees to the same extent as peers, which might have needed to reduce fees to a greater extent in order to maintain a positive yield). Management noted that the Select Prime Institutional Feeder Fund has a “unitary” fee structure, unlike many of the Expense Group peers. Management further noted that because the Select Prime Institutional Feeder Fund’s total expenses are at its Expense Group median, it believes the overall expenses for the fund are in line with its peers.

Management noted that the Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund’s total expenses were above its Expense Group median by 5.0 basis points (i.e., 0.050%). Management explained that the Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund’s higher total expenses relative to the Expense Group were due to yield floor waivers applied to varying degrees over different time horizons for all of the funds in the applicable Expense Group, which made it difficult to assess true comparisons. Management stated that the net prospectus expense ratio, which represents a fund’s total expenses net of contractual waivers (as they appear in the fund’s prospectus) but does not include any voluntary expense waivers (e.g., yield floor waivers), provides a better method of comparison for this year. Management noted that the Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund’s net prospectus expense ratio was at the median in the Expense Group. Management also noted that, compared to the Supplemental Expense Group, the Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund’s net prospectus expense ratio was below the median.

Treasury Master

Select Treasury Institutional Feeder Fund, Select Treasury Preferred Feeder Fund, Select Treasury Investor Feeder Fund and Select Treasury Capital Feeder Fund

The comparative Broadridge information showed that, with the exception of the Select Treasury Institutional Feeder Fund’s and the Select Treasury Investor Feeder Fund’s total expenses, the Treasury Master Fund’s Contractual Management Fee and overall expenses were all at or below its corresponding Expense Group median, while the Treasury Master Fund’s Actual Management Fee, with the exception of the Select Treasury Preferred Fund, was above the median with the related Feeder Funds’ fees taken into account.

Management noted that the Select Treasury Institutional Feeder Fund’s, the Select Treasury Investor Feeder Fund’s and the Select Treasury Capital Feeder Fund’s Actual Management Fees were above the applicable Expense Group median (with the Select Treasury Capital Feeder Fund’s Actual Management Fees the highest in the Expense Group), while the Select Treasury Capital Feeder Fund’s total expenses were below the applicable Expense Group median. Management explained that this differential is largely the result of the Select Treasury Capital Feeder Fund having more competitive gross yields (which resulted in the fund not having to waive its fees to the same extent as peers, which might have needed to reduce fees to a greater extent in order to maintain a positive yield). Management noted that the Select Treasury Institutional Feeder Fund has a “unitary” fee structure, unlike many of the Expense Group peers.

Management noted that the Select Treasury Institutional Feeder Fund’s and the Select Treasury Investor Feeder Fund’s total expenses were above the applicable Expense Group median by 1.5 basis points (i.e., 0.015%) and 4.6 basis points (i.e., 0.046%), respectively. Management explained that the Select Treasury Institutional Feeder Fund’s and the Select Treasury Investor Feeder Fund’s higher total expenses relative to the applicable Expense Group were due to yield floor waivers applied to varying degrees over different time horizons for all of the funds in the applicable Expense Group, which made it difficult to assess true comparisons. Tax-Free Master

Tax-Free Reserves Feeder Fund, Tax-Free Preferred Feeder Fund and Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund

The comparative Broadridge information showed that the Tax-Free Master Fund's Contractual Management Fee was below its corresponding Expense Group median, while the Tax-Free Master Fund's Actual Management Fee and overall expenses were above its corresponding Expense Group median with the related Feeder Funds' fees taken into account.

Management noted that the Tax-Free Reserves Feeder Fund's, the Tax-Free Preferred Feeder Fund's and the Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund's Actual Management Fee was above the applicable Expense Group median by 7.9 basis points (i.e., 0.079%), 2.3 basis points (i.e., 0.023%) and 2.7 basis points (i.e., 0.027%), respectively. Management noted that the Tax-Free Reserves Feeder Fund and the Tax-Free Preferred Feeder Fund have a "unitary" fee structure, unlike many of the Expense Group peers.

Management noted that the Tax-Free Reserves Feeder Fund's, the Tax-Free Preferred Feeder Fund's and the Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund's total expenses were above the applicable Expense Group median by 5.0 basis points (i.e., 0.050%), 1.0 basis points (i.e., 0.010%) and 8.4 basis points (i.e., 0.084%), respectively. Management explained that the Tax-Free Reserves Feeder Fund's, the Tax-Free Preferred Feeder Fund's and the Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund's higher total expenses relative to the Expense Group were due to yield floor waivers applied to varying degrees over different time horizons for all of the funds in the applicable Expense Group, which made it difficult to assess true comparisons. Management stated that the net prospectus expense ratio, which represents a fund's total expenses net of contractual waivers (as they appear in the fund's prospectus) but does not include any voluntary expense waivers (e.g., yield floor waivers), provides a better method of comparison for this year. Management noted that the Tax-Free Reserves Feeder Fund's, the Tax-Free Preferred Feeder Fund's and the Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund's net prospectus expense ratio was below the median in the applicable Expense Group. Management also noted that, compared to the Supplemental Expense Group, the Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund's net prospectus expense ratio was below the median.

In light of the foregoing, the board determined that the management fees for each of Government Master, Prime CNAV Master, Prime Master, Treasury Master and Tax-Free Master were reasonable in light of the nature, extent and quality of services provided to each Master Fund under the Management Contract.

Fund performance—In considering each Master Fund's performance, the board received and considered (a) annualized total return information of each Feeder Fund compared to other funds (the "Performance Universe") selected by Broadridge over the one-, three-, five- and ten-year periods, as applicable to a Feeder Fund, and since inception, in each case ended April 30, 2017 and (b) annualized performance information for each year in the ten-year (or shorter) period ended April 30, 2017. Although the board received information for the ten-year and since inception periods, in its analysis, it generally placed greater emphasis on the one-, three- and five-year periods. The board was provided with a description of the methodology Broadridge used to determine the similarity of each Feeder Fund with the funds included in its Performance Universe. The board noted that each Feeder Fund's performance is correlated with its corresponding Master Fund's performance, with the only difference being the administrative, distribution and shareholder service fees or other expenses paid at the Feeder Fund level.

Government Master

Select Government Institutional Feeder Fund, Select Government Preferred Feeder Fund, Select Government Investor Feeder Fund, Select Government Capital Feeder Fund and RMA Government Money Market Feeder Fund

The comparative Broadridge information showed that the performance of the RMA Government Money Market Feeder Fund, the Select Government Preferred Feeder Fund and the Select Government Capital Feeder Fund, which each commenced operations in June 2016, the Select Government Institutional Feeder Fund, which commenced operations in July 2016, and the Select Government Investor Feeder Fund, which commenced operations in August 2016, was above its corresponding Performance Universe median since inception. (Below median performance represents performance that is worse relative to the median and above median performance represents performance that is better relative to the median.)

Prime CNAV Master

Prime Reserves Feeder Fund, Prime Preferred Feeder Fund and Prime Investor Feeder Fund

The comparative Broadridge information showed that the performance of the Prime Reserves Feeder Fund, the Prime Preferred Feeder Fund and the Prime Investor Feeder Fund, which each commenced operations in January 2016, was above its corresponding Performance Universe median for the one-year period and since inception.

Prime Master

Select Prime Institutional Feeder Fund, Select Prime Preferred Feeder Fund and Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund

The comparative Broadridge information showed that the performance of the Select Prime Institutional Feeder Fund and the Select Prime Preferred Feeder Fund was above its corresponding Performance Universe median for the one-, three-, five- and ten-year periods, as applicable, and since inception, and the performance of the Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund was below its corresponding Performance Universe median for the one-, three- and five-year periods and since inception. Management explained that the Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund's relative underperformance was largely attributed to material changes in the composition of the Broadridge Retail Money Market category in late 2016 due to the introduction of floating net asset value (i.e., "FNAV") pricing across all non-government institutional money market funds. Management noted that non-government money market funds previously were separated into "institutional" and "retail" categories based largely on the minimum initial investment requirement applicable to all underlying investors (i.e., higher minimum investments and lower total expense ratios for institutional money market funds relative to other money market funds). Management stated that, following regulatory changes, non-government money market funds are now separated into "institutional" and "retail" categories based on whether the fund uses FNAV pricing or constant net asset value (i.e., "CNAV") pricing, respectively. Management explained that the performance of the Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund was now compared to all other non-government CNAV funds, including funds with higher investment minimums and/or lower expense ratios, which may lead to a wider differential between best- and worst-performing funds in the category and result in less favorable performance rankings of the Select Prime Investor Feeder Fund since expenses can materially impact net yields.

Treasury Master

Select Treasury Institutional Feeder Fund, Select Treasury Preferred Feeder Fund, Select Treasury Investor Feeder Fund and Select Treasury Capital Feeder Fund

The comparative Broadridge information showed that the performance of the Select Treasury Institutional Feeder Fund, the Select Treasury Preferred Feeder Fund, the Select Treasury Investor Feeder Fund and the Select Treasury Capital Feeder Fund was at or above its corresponding Performance Universe median for the one-, three-, five- and ten-year periods, as applicable, and since inception.

Tax-Free Master

Management explained that the Tax-Free

Investor Feeder Fund's relative underperformance was largely attributed to material changes in the composition of the Broadridge Retail Tax-Exempt Money Market category in late 2016 due to the introduction of floating net asset value (i.e., "FNAV") pricing across all non-government institutional money market funds. Management noted that non-government money market funds previously were separated into "institutional" and "retail" categories based largely on the minimum initial investment requirement applicable to all underlying investors (i.e., higher minimum investments and lower total expense ratios for institutional money market funds relative to other money market funds). Management stated that, following regulatory changes, non-government money market funds are now separated into "institutional" and "retail" categories based on whether the fund uses FNAV pricing or constant net asset value (i.e., "CNAV") pricing, respectively. Management explained that the performance of the Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund was now compared to all other tax-exempt CNAV funds, including funds with higher investment minimums and/or lower expense ratios, which may lead to a wider differential between best- and worst-performing funds in the category and result in less favorable performance rankings of the Tax-Free Investor Feeder Fund since expenses can materially impact net yields.

Based on its review, the board concluded that each Master Fund's investment performance was acceptable.

Advisor profitability—The board received and considered a profitability analysis of UBS AM and its affiliates in providing services to the Master Funds and the Feeder Funds. The board also received profitability information with respect to the UBS New York fund complex as a whole. UBS AM's profitability was considered not excessive in light of the nature, extent and quality of the services provided to the Master Funds and the Feeder Funds.

Economies of scale—The board received and considered information from management regarding whether UBS AM realized economies of scale as the Master Funds' assets grew, whether the Master Funds have appropriately benefited from any economies of scale, and whether there is potential for realization of any further economies of scale for the Master Funds. The board considered whether economies of scale in the provision of services to the Master Funds were being passed along to the Feeder Funds' shareholders.

The board noted that although each Master Fund's Contractual Management Fee contained breakpoints at higher asset levels, economies of scale might inure more to UBS AM because UBS AM paid most of each Master Fund's non-management operating expenses under the "unitary" fee structure. Overall, the board considered the sharing of economies of scale with the shareholders of the Feeder Funds acceptable.

Other benefits to UBS AM—The board considered other benefits received by UBS AM and its affiliates as a result of its relationship with the Master Funds and the Feeder Funds, including the opportunity to offer additional products and services to the Feeder Funds' shareholders and to others. In light of the costs of providing investment advisory, administrative and other services to the Master Funds, the costs of providing administrative services to the Feeder Funds and UBS AM's ongoing commitment to the Master Funds and the Feeder Funds, the profits and other ancillary benefits that UBS AM and its affiliates received were considered reasonable.

In light of all of the foregoing, the board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, approved the Management Contract. No single factor reviewed by the board was identified by the board as the principal factor in determining whether to approve the Management Contract. The Independent Trustees were advised by separate independent legal counsel throughout the process. The board discussed the proposed continuance of the Management Contract in private sessions with their independent legal counsel at which no representatives of UBS AM were present.
