<sup>1</sup> UBS Tax-Free Investor Fund ("the Fund") has been acquired by the UBS Tax-Free Reserves Fund ("Acquiring Fund"). The Fund transferred its assets and liabilities in exchange for shares of the Acquiring Fund, followed by the distribution of shares of the Acquiring Fund to the shareholders of the Fund and the complete liquidation of the Fund on January 20, 2023. The acquisition was intended to be tax-free, meaning that shareholders of the Fund became shareholders of the Acquiring Fund without realizing any gain or loss for federal income tax purposes.

Note: None of the income dividends paid by UBS Tax-Free Reserves Fund, UBS Tax-Free Preferred Fund, and UBS Tax-Free Investor Fund are subject to the Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT). 100% of the ordinary income dividends paid by UBS Tax-Free Reserves Fund, UBS Tax-Free Preferred Fund, and UBS Tax-Free Investor Fund, respectively, are exempt from regular federal income tax. Most states/territories do not impose income tax on income derived from their own municipal obligations. Please consult your tax advisor regarding the tax laws in each state.

Sources of Ordinary Income Dividends from U.S. Government and Agency Obligations for Calendar Year 2023

The tax laws of each state differ with respect to the taxation of the dividends paid by mutual funds that were derived in whole or in part from interest earned on U.S. government and agency obligations. Some states require that a minimum percentage, usually 50% of the fund's assets, consist of direct U.S. government securities at the end of each fiscal quarter to be exempt from state taxes. None of the Funds met this requirement during the 2023 calendar year for California and New York. The following table indicates certain sources of the ordinary income dividends paid by the Funds during calendar year 2023.

<sup>2</sup> These funds (or a related master fund for certain Funds) are permitted to invest in repurchase agreements backed by government securities; repurchase agreements generally do not qualify as government obligations for tax purposes.

<sup>4</sup> UBS Select Prime Investor Fund, UBS Select Treasury Investor Fund, UBS Prime Investor Fund, UBS Select Government Investor Fund and UBS Select ESG Prime Investor Fund ("the Funds") have been acquired by the UBS Select Prime Institutional Fund, UBS Select Treasury Institutional Fund, UBS Prime Institutional Fund, UBS Select Government Institutional Fund, and UBS Select Prime Series II Institutional Fund ("Acquiring Funds"), respectively. Each of the Funds transferred its assets and liabilities in exchange for shares of the respective Acquiring Fund, followed by the distribution of shares of the Acquiring Fund to the shareholders of each respective Fund and the complete liquidation of each fund on January 20, 2023. The acquisition was intended to be tax-free, meaning that shareholders of each of the Funds became shareholders of the respective Acquiring Fund without realizing any gain or loss for federal income tax purposes.

<sup>5</sup> In addition to ordinary income dividends, the Fund also made long-term capital gain distributions as reported on your Form 1099-Div in Box 2a.

Please consult your tax advisor for further assistance with how these distributions will impact your specific tax situation.
