This update pertains to non-institutional money market funds and Treasury/government money market funds. A separate, similar monthly update is prepared for our US institutional money market funds and Treasury/government money market funds and is available upon request.

Note that we classify non-traditional repo as exposure of the counterparty bank and traditional repo as either Treasury or Agency ("US") exposure.

Country is categorized by location of the ultimate parent company, not just location of issuer. While securities issued by US finance subsidiaries of non-US banks are considered to be in the US banking category for purposes of the funds' investment policies, the chart above "looks through" to the location of the ultimate parent company of subsidiaries to provide a more expansive indication of exposure. This may differ and be broader than that contained in shareholder reports and other public disclosures that report data without the "look through."

WAL refers to the weighted average life of such country holdings.

With respect to Tax-Free Master Fund, this country exposure relates to credit, liquidity or similar features attendant to municipal securities, but not direct investment in non-US securities as tax-free funds do not normally make such investments. For example, the credit quality of a municipal security may be enhanced by having the payment obligation backed by a "letter of credit" issued by a non-US bank; if the issuing US municipality was to default on its payment obligations, the non-US bank would then be expected to pay in its stead. Letters of credit may be provided by foreign and/or US banks. Non-US exposure for tax-free funds almost exclusively relates to enhancements on US state-issued municipal debt.

Given the historically consistent short weighted average life characteristics of tax-free money market securities, a "WAL days" column is not provided above for Tax-Free Master Fund.

Note regarding Treasury Master Fund: Under normal circumstances, Treasury Master Fund expects to invest substantially all of its assets in securities issued by the US Treasury and in related repurchase agreements; hence, a similar monthly "Exposure by country" table is not provided for that fund and its related feeder funds.

Note regarding Government Master Fund: Government Master Fund invests 99.5% or more of its total assets in cash, government securities and/or repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully (i.e., collateralized by cash and/or government securities); hence, a similar monthly "Exposure by country" table is not provided for that fund and its related feeder funds.

Note regarding UBS Liquid Assets Government Fund and PACE Government Money Market Investments: The Fund invests 99.5% or more of its total assets in cash, government securities and/or repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully (i.e., collateralized by cash and/or government securities); hence, a similar monthly "Exposure by country" table is not provided for those funds.

This update pertains to non-institutional money market funds and Treasury/government money market funds. A separate, similar monthly update is prepared for our US institutional money market funds and Treasury/government money market funds and is available upon request.

Note that we classify non-traditional repo as exposure of the counterparty bank and traditional repo as either Treasury or Agency ("US") exposure.

Country is categorized by location of the ultimate parent company, not just location of issuer. While securities issued by US finance subsidiaries of non-US banks are considered to be in the US banking category for purposes of the funds' investment policies, the chart above "looks through" to the location of the ultimate parent company of subsidiaries to provide a more expansive indication of exposure. This may differ and be broader than that contained in shareholder reports and other public disclosures that report data without the "look through."

WAL refers to the weighted average life of such country holdings.

With respect to Tax-Free Master Fund, this country exposure relates to credit, liquidity or similar features attendant to municipal securities, but not direct investment in non-US securities as tax-free funds do not normally make such investments. For example, the credit quality of a municipal security may be enhanced by having the payment obligation backed by a "letter of credit" issued by a non-US bank; if the issuing US municipality was to default on its payment obligations, the non-US bank would then be expected to pay in its stead. Letters of credit may be provided by foreign and/or US banks. Non-US exposure for tax-free funds almost exclusively relates to enhancements on US state-issued municipal debt.

Given the historically consistent short weighted average life characteristics of tax-free money market securities, a "WAL days" column is not provided above for Tax-Free Master Fund.

Note regarding Treasury Master Fund: Under normal circumstances, Treasury Master Fund expects to invest substantially all of its assets in securities issued by the US Treasury and in related repurchase agreements; hence, a similar monthly "Exposure by country" table is not provided for that fund and its related feeder funds.

Note regarding Government Master Fund: Government Master Fund invests 99.5% or more of its total assets in cash, government securities and/or repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully (i.e., collateralized by cash and/or government securities); hence, a similar monthly "Exposure by country" table is not provided for that fund and its related feeder funds.

Note regarding UBS Liquid Assets Government Fund and PACE Government Money Market Investments: The Fund invests 99.5% or more of its total assets in cash, government securities and/or repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully (i.e., collateralized by cash and/or government securities); hence, a similar monthly "Exposure by country" table is not provided for those funds.
